A very beautiful young lady with a beautiful smile came to see me the other day, to complete her business transactions she had to make two or three trips to the office not counting the number of times she returned either for her sweater, car keys, etc. Each time she came in I was sitting on the front desk.

— CT —

Of course after the third trip she got kinda bold and asked me if that was all that I did, was sit on the front desk and look out of the window. Well I do have a lot of other things to do, and I do get them done, but this is the answer that I gave her:

— CT —

"Nothing is funnier than the look on the face of a person at the upper end of a dog leash, pretending not to know what's going on at the other end, and that is what I sit on the desk to watch." . . . She did come back once after that, a week later. Yes, you guessed it, I was sitting on the front desk . . . she went out and forgot her groceries and when she returned I was in the same position . . . for this I worked an hour overtime that night.

— CT —

I had a request the other day as to "whether I would run news about the Democrat Club, in particular, its opening. Now everyone knows that I am a dyed in the wool Republican, but . . . and I do mean but . . . I have never denied, I say I will NEVER deny Democrats their news releases about their club.

— CT —

I suppost some people judge others by their own reactions, but I consider the Sierra Madre News as a newspaper belonging to all of the people and they are welcome to use it. It is just unfortunate that I am a Republican and they must read Republican comments. I am sure that back in the late 50's when Harry Elwood owned and operated the papers, and he being an ardent Democrat, that a lot of Republicans were in a quandry about their news.

— CT —

Democrats and Republicans will be treated alike. They must have their news into the paper by Friday afternoons; news must not be on candidates, but can be on activities of the club, teas, coffee, fund drives, meetings and so forth. Now that we have that off our chest, we will go on with the column.

— CT —

A little girl was into the office a couple of days ago and was telling us that her father had broken a leg and was in bed.

— CT —

One of the girls in the office asked: "Do you think your daddy will be laid up very long with his injured leg?" "Yes," said the young lady, "I think so, you see Compensations have set in." . . . This sounds like a good deal to me.

— CT —

Almost as good as the deal I heard about the other day. As it was told to me, Papa Robin sat on the blue eggs in the nest to help out Mama Robin. Later, Mama Robin returned to sit on the nest to keep the eggs warm.

When it became Papa Robin's turn again, he found among the blue eggs one that was brown and mottled. He immediately questioned Mama Robin about it. After hesitating for a second or two, she said, "Sorry about that, I did it for a lark." Shortly after that, someone came out with a song about the "poor little Robin that went limping off to Missouri."

For those who may be a little perplexed about the weather report in the News, we again explain that Sierra Madre operates its weather station on the basis

Donation To Medical Unit Welcomed

A one-man campaign to assist the Sierra Madre Emergency Medical Unit maintain its operating funds, was launched by Sam Tesoro several weeks ago, and at this date has shown good response from the citizens of the area.

Sam Tesoro was the general chairman of the group that raised the necessary funds to purchase the unit several years ago, and is still deeply interested in its perfromance.

County Approves SM Agreement To Clean Out Debris

County supervisors have approved an agreement calling for the Flood Control District to remove and dispose of debris currently in storage at Floral debris basin, a facility owned and operated by the City of Sierra Madre, Supervisor Baxter Ward reports.

The agreement also provides for removal of additional debris which may be deposited in the basin subsequent to the removal of the debris currently in storage.

Parties to the pact are the District and the City of Sierra Madre.

Recent storms have reduced basin capacity, and the watershed area tributary to Floral debris basin has been completely denuded from an October 23 fire. A moderate storm in the area could produce nearly twice as much debris as the basin's capacity and the clean-out is needed to assure maximum protection of the downstream community, Ward said.

Sierra Madre will pay the District $8,900 when the debris has been removed. Reimbursement of District costs for taking out any additional debris will be determined from future negotiations with the City.

Pastor Armin Hesse Gives Sermon Titles For Faith Lutheran Church

In the 10:30 Worship Hour at Faith Lutheran Church, 835 Hastings Ranch Drive Pasadena, Pastor Armin Hesse's sermon title will be "He Gave His Back." During Lent he is speaking on "Some of the Actions of Jesus during His Passion."

During the five Wednesday evenings before Holy Week, the congregation is gathering in the parish hall at 7:30 p.m. for study and discussion of "The Parallel Accounts of Our Lord's Passion." Next Wednesday's topic is "Jesus Before the Civil Court."

At 9 a.m. the Sunday School departments meet in the parish hall for a time together before meeting in their separate classes. March has been designated "Bring a friend to Sunday School" month — in hopes of outreach to those who have not "heard the good news of Jesus Christ."

Next week's parish schedule lists: Saturday, the 17, at 10 a.m., Junior Youth Frisbee Golf, with participants bringing a sack lunch and a frisbee; Sunday afternoon, 1 p.m., Active Christian Teens Newspaper rolling; Contemporary Choir, Sunday evening, 7 p.m. in the parish hall for college and high school age young people; Monday night, 7:45 p.m., Women's Christian Service Guild meeting at the parish hall; Tuesday night, ACT Bible Study, 7:30 p.m., at the L. Studies have shown that workers hired after the age of 40 tend to attain higher performance ratings within a shorter period of time than those hired before the age of 30. Peak performance was reached between the ages of 51 and 55 in one survey and between the ages of 56 and 60 in another.

Workers in the 45 to 64-year-old age group are only half as likely to change jobs as persons in the 25 to 44-year-old group.

Older workers have a greater job stability and a better record of continued acceptance by the employer once they are hired.

Jewish Passover At Bethany Church

All are invited to attend and take their friends to a unique opportunity to see all of the significant elements of the Jewish Passover Feast on Wednesday evening, March 21 at 7 p.m. at Bethany Church of Sierra Madre.

Rev. Bill Katin, graduate of Talbot Seminary and representative for the American Board of Missions to the Jews is reserving this evening for celebration of the Passover Seder plate service. The special foods and equipment are explained as they look back to the first Passover in Egypt and to the death of Messiah, the Passover Lamb. You will see the reason why Christ, Himself, established the "Lord's Supper" out of the Passover feast — to memorialize His sacrifiical death until He comes again. It's a time you'll never forget.

Rev. Katin is presently continuing his studies in a Ph.D program at the Claremoni Graduate School where his specialty is the Dead Sea Scrolls. There is no charge at this service but a free-will offering will be received. Bethany Church is located at 93 North Baldwin Ave.

An Ode To Red

"Red" Burt, almost a permanent figure at Roess Marketr retired last week. He has made many friends in the 39-years at Roess Market. The following has been written by one of those friends as a kinda momento . . . It is reprinted here exactly as it was written:

It was in nineteen forth that Red first came to Roess
Flaming hair, flashing smile and a real handsome face.
They all worked together.
sometimes into the night,
The market was new and they wanted things right.
Red was young and uncertain, with no definite craft
Should he enroll in college while 1A in the draft?
Then along came Pearl Harbor and that hair
red and wavy Could be seen in the bunch joining Uncle
Sam's Navy
Now came boot camp,
quarantine, shots,
endless standing in line,
Was assigned to San Diego for indefinite time.
Would he stay there, get shipped out — making plans were in vain Waited two years and two months and then married Jane.
The treasure of Sierra Madre was she
And that's where she waited while he went to sea
He sailed to Hawaii and was stationed to stay Until the war ended on that day called VJ Rejoicing, reunions and painting the town Back to work, set your goals, begin settling down.
A good job, a nice home
and two cars — life was neat
Then a new baby daughter made it really complete
His joy had no bounderies, he was happy and proud His pretty girl sent him to that number nine cloud.
The years have been happy and kind and much more
And in retrospect, most have been spent in the store
More loyal and devoted than many could know,
His efforts have helped the shop prosper and grow.
But the cares and the pressures seem to build day by day Can't ease up, can't slow down, se he's best get away.
Looking down memory lane, way back to the start Happy thoughts of the market are filling his heart.
Of the men who've worked with him, an outstanding few Have been more than just helpers, but friends true and blue Working tirelessly with him should things get in a bind
And ha's grateful and thankful, 'cause they're so hard to find.
On his last day to be there, no plans had been made
But the customers came and they stayed and they stayed Bringing gifts, cards, good wishes, cakes, pies and bread Told him how much they'd miss him, and a few tears were shed.
To him they were friends and he knew them by name
With "goodbye," they all said, "it won't be the same."
He can socialize week nights, have Saturdays free
Can work in the yard or sit under a tree
Play golf, go to ball games, take a job if he's bored
Do whatever he pleases — that he can afford.
He'll relax for awhile and unwind day by day,
And is planning his third trip to Europe in May!

Letter To the Editor

Dear Editor:

If doing business with the Communists were to the advantage of the United States, the Communists would never permit it. That is simple logic.

The greatest proponents of U.S. recognition of Red China and sending our goods there are the Red Chinese, followed closely by the U.S. State Department.

One American "prophet," noted for the accuracy of his predictions over the past 20 years, says there is a strong possibility that if the connivers in control of our government "are allowed to get away with all the steps they have planned, from going through with full recognition of Red China right up to landing our country into a war against Soviet Russia with Red China as our ally, there is not a person living in the United States when that war becomes a realiiy who will ever see peace again during his lifetime!"

If is your future and the future of your descendants that your representatives in Washington are dealing with, from the President right on down. Remember that you have the Constitutional right of petition to let them know what you think of Red China, and how you would like them to represent you!

— Dorothy Walden

Dear Editor:

Because of massive, years-long, worldwide propaganda about "United States Imperialism," we Americans seem to have become guilt-ridden and defensive in our attitude about this great land of ours. We must understand the truth and regain self-respect if we are not to lose the psychological battle our enemies are waging against us. America's overall record in its relations with other nations is by far the most generous and the most humae ever compiled by any major power since the dawn of recorded history.

Yes, we have, on occasion done cruel or unjust things, but such instances are few in comparison with the many acts of selfless generosity. True, we did at one time create an empire by force, but we voluntarily liquidated that empire.

No major power ever resisted, as sucessfully as did we, the temptations represented by many weak neighboring states with great potential natural wealth. That we did not conquer and absorb most of Latin America will forever be a glorious tribute to our forbearance and peaceful nature.

Never before in human history have so few done so much for so many. Almost every area of the globe, including Soviet Russia, has received massive aid from us. More than seventy nations have been given food, goods, machines, medicines, and money. Since 1914 we have given more aid to the rest of the world than have all other nations combined.

Pride, not guilt, should be our attitude when speaking of our country. Communists and pro-Communists who use the smear term "U.S. Imperialism" ignore the glaring truth: there are only two major empires in the world today, and both are Communist — the Soviet Russia and the Red Chinese.

Sixty Students In Blood Workshop

Twenty - two high schools from San Gabriel Valley were represented at the first blood education workshop held February 21 at Methodist Hospital, Arcadia.

Over 60 students participated in the day-long events which included movies, slide presentations, a general background on blood components, description of the various uses of blood, a step- by- step description of the donation process, blood typing, a panel discussion by high school students who currently participate in the high school bloodmobile program, and the opportunity for students interested in having a bloodmobile at their school to become acquainted with the program.

Judy Scott, coordinator of student recruitment for Los Angeles - Orange Counties Red Cross Regions Blood Service, coordinated and moderated the event which was one of four scheduled within the Los Angeles - Orange County area.

Three physicians, Drs. Julian Love, H. Schuyler Aijian and Benjamin Stafford, added their expertise to the innovative and exciting presentation.

According to Ms. Scott, the San Gabriel Valley workshop was the most successful of the four given in the Southern California area. The evaluation sheets turned in by the students indicated a tremendous interest and genuine appreciation for consideration of them as young persons and as potential donors.

LA Children Need Foster Homes

Do you have space in your home and heart for a homeless child? There is a shortage of foster homes in Los Angeles County. We urgently need homes from all communities.

A foster home is a temporary home for children whose parents are unable to care for them for any of several reasons. These reasons may include accidental death or hospitalization or desertion, or neglect or abuse of the children. Whatever the reason, the child needs a home until such time as a permanent solution can be worked out. That is what the foster care program is all about.

There is a particular need for homes for infants and teenagers, and from the Asian - Pacific and American Indian communities. However, since there is a shortage in the total number of foster homes, they do need homes for all ages of children and from all ethnic communities.

All foster homes are licensed by the state. A license is not difficult to obtain. If you would like more information about foster care, call 579-6150, ext. 1297.

Mother: "How do you know this, dear?" . . . . Laurie: "They sure made an awful fuss this morning when their baby swallowed a dime." . . . Of course now days a dime is a dime . . . I think I would fuss about it, too.

— CT —

Two children were visiting the Los Angeles Museum the other day and were quite interested in looking at a mummy. Under the mummy's figure was a sign which read 208 B.C. . . .

— CT —

"I wonder what that means?" said one to the other, and the other came forth with the following explanation . . . "It's probably the license plate of the guy that hit him." . . . and that's fairly quick with an answer that would not be far from wrong.

— CT —

Here is another classified ad that I read in a Kansas newspaper dated October 24, 1968: "FOUND—Bird or hat, which flew into Dan's Service Station Tuesday. It's sort of round with green and red feathers or quills on it. If you've lost a bird or a hat, or even if you haven't . . . drive by and see it . . . it's worth the trip — Dan's Service Station." . . . . This even sounded interesting to me, and if it wasn't so darn far I think I would drive by and have a look.

— CT —

Confucius say: "Man who crosses ocean twice and doesn't take a bath is a dirty double-crosser." That Confucius one smart man.

— CT —

Seems that a few of you got a kick out of an item taken from a surrounding newspaper and publish ed here . . . Well, here are a couple more . . . taken from the classified section . . . "Wanted — Clerk to work eight hours a day to replace one who didn't." . . . rather blunt and to the point, wouldn't you say.

— CT —

Here is another and it was a front page news story which gave an interesting account of an accident that happeed in their town . . . "The operator of the other car, charged with drunken driving, crashed into Miss Miller's rear end which was sticking out into the road." . . . It could happen to the best of us.

You know, many of us order by mail, and sometimes do not read the fine print, or in the letter or order, we make a remark that the merchant or manufacturer sometimes follows to the letter . . . . Take, for instance, something that happened to a Pasadena man a couple of weeks ago . . .

— CT —

He came into the newspaper office and was complaining that he had just bought a pre - fabricated house and that it had, in the end, cost him over $90,000.00.

— CT —

"Ninety thousand!" I exclaimed. "Isn't that an awful lot to pay for a prefab?" "Or did it come equipped with all the appliances, a fur coat and a Cadillac?" I asked.

— CT —

"Yes," remarked the new homeowenr. "It wasn't so much to begin with, but I placed a remark on the ored that I wanted it 'Rushed' and sent immediately . . . well, they took me at my word and sent it AIR MAIL." . . . Now wouldn't that be something, imagine getting a house via air mail . . . wonder what Ed Barack would do in that event?

— CT —

In closing for the week, just a little question . . .

"Do you ever have the feeling that this kooky old world is getting kookier?" . . . We buy things we don't need with the money we don't have to impress the people we don't like. And when we can't meet the payments, we merely arrange for one friendly gigantic, impossible loan to get rid of the friendly, little, impossible loans that keep bugging us . . . See you buying all your needs in Sierra Madre, I hope, I hope, I hope.

Sunrise Service To Be Sun., April 15

Your Chamber of Commerce, at its regular meeting of Tuesday, March 6, touched upon the forthcoming Sunrise Services planned for the community at Easter.

Chairman of the event, Gordon Baker Lloyd stated that everything was in readiness to hold the event in Memorial Park at sunrise on Sunday, April 15. Although the Almanac sets the sunrise for this day at 5:21, the exact announcement of the services and the time will be forthcoming as we approach the Easter date.

It was further announced that Reverend Richard Anderson was responsible for coordination of the local ministers for the services and this too will be announced at a later date. It will be the sixth annual combined community service. Watch for further announcements on this very well attended event.

City Council In Session

ing was held and appeal denied by the Council.

Reports were heard and discussed on the City Yard by Committee Chairman Sam Simpson, Teleprompter Cable TV, Auburn Extension Road, Finance Department by Charles I. Corp, Floral Debris Basin and Business Licenses with the Staff given proper direction on the matters.

Discussion was held relative to the Police Units for the coming year, and as reported by Councilwoman Rudolph and Councilman Delgatto, it was recommended and approved by Chief of Police Betts that the existing vehicles be leased on a maintenance contract. The annual cost will be $14,310, of which $4,770 is for maintenance. It is a savings of $9,240.12 over the bid by Folgers Ford. By motion and second it was so approved by the Council.

A request by the Rose Float Association for the use of the apparatus room at the old City Hall for a rummage sale temporary permit was submitted for April 7, and by motion and second was so granted by the Council.

After giving the audience a second period for discussion the Mayor called upon the City Administrator and each member of the Council, after which he called for adjournment and by motion and second so received it and adjourned for the evening.

The event will be held in conjunction with St. Joseph's Table, enabling parents and other visitors to attend both functions on the same Sunday.

The teachers and children put forth much effort and planning to make Open House a memorable event, showing their accomplishments in scholastic and artistic displays.

Injury

both legs, chest and back, lacerations over the left eye, trauma to the head and throat.

The basis of the claim is alleged to be an act of omission of the following City Officers, John L. Calicchio, Randy E. Kirby, Steve Berdrow and Richard Ivler and further that the use of excessive force by the abovementioned police officers was the basis for the liability.

Witnesses to the affair were named as Howard Rush of 401 Churchill Road and Gladys Rush of the same address. Treatment was allegedly given at the St. Luke Hospital Emergency Room.

The City Council by motion and second denied the claim and referred the matter to their insurance carrier for disposition.

Selling Our Assets!

County Board of Supervisors Chairman Kenneth Hahn reports the public auction of the old municipal traffic court building, 833 South Wall Street, has resulted in a sale of the facility for $2.3 million.

"This is a great bargain for the county. The money will go to the county's general fund to help meet the post Proposition 13 budget needs," Hahn expressed.

The Board of Supervisors has approved the sale of the 95,500 square-feet of property purchased by Irwin Hirsch, director of Manufacturers Bank.

A total of 15 bids were submitted with an original minimum bid of $975,000 which was the county's estimated value of the property, Hahn noted.

Supervisor Hahn officiated at the auction held on January 25.

Through Hahn's efforts in pointing out to the bidders the value of owning a piece of property in the downtown area, centrally located and close to the freeways, the county benefited by gaining $1,325,000 more than antcipated.

The new owner will actually take possession of the building on April 25. Presently, the facility is being used for the storage of supplies for the County Sheriff and Public Social Services Departments.

The county services in the old municipal traffic court building were transferred in 1973 to the new traffic court building at 1945 South Hill Street. Hahn pointed out.

"Obtaining funds to help balance the budget is a good way of running county government," Hahn expressed.

Hahn taking credit for "pointing out to the bidders the value of owning a piece of property in the downtown area and gaining $1,325,000 more than anticipated" is like taking credit for a lightning strike. Anyone who is going to spend of $2 million would certainly be well acquainted with the benefits of owning a downtown piece of property. The person or persons he should have given the information to was the appraiser who so severely underestimated the value of a piece of property.

Too Much Too Late

Like the proverbial generals who always fight the last war, the Carter Administration came into office determined to cure or avoid a Great Depression of the 1930's and the less severe recession and unemployment of more recent years. Fighting the wrong enemy at the wrong time explains much of our inflation dilemma, and may well lead both to a recession later this year and to political disaster for Jimmy Carter.

In its first twenty months in office, the Carter Administration claimed to be battling high and rising inflation, but their actions belied their fighting words and gestures. Despite announcements that Jimmy Carter was an eficiency expert and fiscal conservative, no consequential economies or cutbacks were initiated and no important federal programs were curtailed.

Federal government expenditures continued to rise rapidly and little progress was made in cutting the staggering budget deficit. Federal Reserve monetary actions, which had been fueling inflation by causing excessive increases in the quantity of money, became even more inflationary as money increased still more rapilly. The rapid erosion in the value of the dollar, especially in foreign exchange markets, finally compelled the Carter Administration to shift policies — just before the congreissional elections in November.

After wasting twenty months, President Carter acknowledged that inflation was Public Enemy Number One and announced a new program to slow it down.

Some elements of the new anti-inflation program, such as "voluntary" wage and price guidelines, are counterproduc.ive. (Although the guidelines have generally been met, inflation has not slowed.) Other elements of the program, such as intervention in foreign exchange markets, are simply ineffective.

Regarding fiscal policy, it turns out that the new Carter bulget, labeled "lean and tough" by the Administration, proposes still another eight per cent increase in federal expenditures and neither operating economies nor expenditure cutbacks in any federal department budget. The hidden and, as yet, little noticed fiscal policy agenda is that the budgeted and hoped for reduction in the deficit turns out to result from projected increases in tax payments and higher tax rates rather than reduced government expenditures.

However, the new economic program does have important new consequences because there has been a major and sustained change in monetary policy since mid-October. Since then, there has been an abrupt reduction in the growth of all measures of money. For example, the narrow M1 measure of money that includes currency and commercial bank checking accounts has been decreasing at a one per cent annual rate in the past four months compared to an increased ten per cent earlier in 1978. For the broader M2 measure of money that includes currency plus all commercial bank deposits other than large certificates of deposit, money growth has been at the rate of three per cent per year, sharply down from the earlier pace of ten per cent.

Unless there is a prompt reversal of monetary policy, slamming on the monetary brakes is certain to cause a recession. The accumulated evidence from many similar contractionary episodes of monetary history indicates that business recessions generally start two to three quarters after the Federal Reserve significantly lowers the pace of monetary expansion. Consistent with historic norms, Fed actions will lead to a business downturn and increased unemployment starting approximately during the summer months of 1979. Because of lags in assembling and evaluating economic statistics, the recession may not become apparent until late in the year, only a few months before the 1980 presidential primaries begin. It is inevitable that the likely recession will have a profound impact on the 1980 presidential race.

Unfortunately, a 1979 recession is not likely to be accompanied by an immediate and significant slowing of inflation. Other evidence from monetary history indicates that, even though there is a very close link between the quantity of money and inflation, there is a relatively long lag from 1½ to 2 years between monetary change and a change in the pace of inflation. (Current high inflation rates closely parallel the rapid rate of monetary expansion 1½ to 2 years ago.)

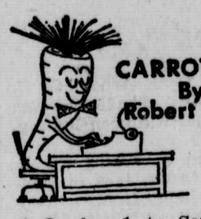

If these historical norms hold, and there is no reason to believe they will not, when the Fed slammed on the monetary brakes last autumn it meant that inflation could not taper off until mil-1980. Thus, for some months from mid-1979 to mid-1980, the country is likely to experience the worst of both worlds — economic recession with no abatement of inflation.

Given this scenario, it is not unlikely that in 1980 Jimmy Carter will join the growing ranks of the unemployed.

Speaking of the weather reminds me of a little story that I will relate to you.

— CT —

Judge (in a traffic court in Pasadena): "I'll let you off with a fine this time, but anther day and I'll send you to jail."

— CT —

Prisoner: "Sort of a weather fosecast, eh Judge?" "What do you mean?" inquired the judge. And the prisoner explained: "Fine today, cooler tmorrow." The judge sorta grinned.

— CT —

Of course, credit is a wonderful thing, but it does have a tendency to get all of us into deep trouble. Such is the case of an Arcadia man who had gotten himself head over heels in debt and finally came to the conclusion that he just could not make the grade, so he . . . .

— CT —

Called a dozen of his creditors together to tell them that he was about to go ino bankruptcy. "I owe you over $100,000," he said, "and my assets aren't enough to pay you ten cents on the dollar. So I guess it will be impossible for you to get anything . . .

— CT —

. . . "That is, unless you want to cut me up and divide me among you." "Mr. Chairman," spoke up one creditor, "I move that we do just that . . . I'd like to have your gall." . . . and I do suppose many feel that way, but they shouldn't be in the credit business.

— CT —

Of course, I have a suggestion for those who persist and it is like a signboard that I recently saw in a store window:

— CT —

The preacher had come along and wrote upon the signboard: "I pray for all."

The lawyer wrote underneath: "I plead for all."

The doctor added: "I prescribe for all."

The plain citizen wrote "I PAY FOR ALL ! ! ! !," and that's nuff said.

— CT —

Seen in the Personal Column of a Texas Star-Telegram daily newspaper: "90-year-old man who drinks and smokes wants to meet 90-year-old woman who drinks and smokes . . . . Objective: 'Drinking and Smokering'." . . . seems natural doesn't it.

— CT —

Here's something that happened at one of the local kindergarten classes around the Halloween season . . . A five-year-old showed up at the kindergarten class one day dressed in faded blue jeans under a frilly petticoat and a beautiful ruffled party dress.

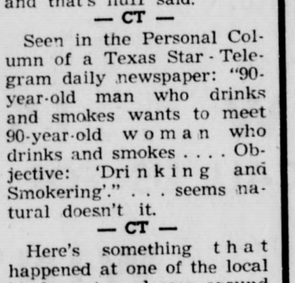

— CT —

Pinned to the dress was this note from the girl's mothe.r . . . . "I hope you don't think this was my idea!" . . . and I'll bet some of them try for something a great deal more amusing than this one.

— CT —

Course here is another from the small fry . . . Laurie: . . . . "The people next door must be awfully poor."

Take your problems to CHURCH this week-- millions leave them there!

Spring is so much more than just a season. It is a miracle, enacted against a backdrop of perfect days. It is the time of rebirth . . . of reaffirmation.

Spring is Christ's story, beautifully illustrated by nature. It is all the teachings of the Church, brought to reality, spread out gloriously for you to see. Nature, in her sweet, new loveliness, touches the world, touches you with the Christ-like spirit. If your vision has been dulled, she gives you the chance to see again more brightly than ever.

Palm Sunday is here again. Never before have the doors of the Church seemed to stand quite so open . . . so ready to receive you. Never has the lesson of everlasting life . . . Christ's lesson . . . been so poignant. There will be new richness in your life if you will trust in the Church. In your soul there can be eternal spring, and all the bleakness, questioning and doubt can be erased from your heart forever.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . .
ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Prof. John Marquardt, violinist, and his wife, the harpist, will reside in Sierra Madre. They have bought the beautiful home of Rol King, 354 Sycamore Place.

If you could have seen the faces and heard the expression of delight coming from the five automobile loads of convalescents who were given a joy ride Saturday, you could better appreciate the happiness of these "shut-ins" many of whom had never been over the beautiful drives and smooth boulevards of the adjacent territory.

The band concert, at the automobile show last Friday night was a surprise to our people. It was the first public appearance of the Sierra Madre band this year, and the high class music they gave was accurate in tone, time and expression.

Our automobile show was the first one to be held in Southern California, outside of the larger cities, and was such a success that other towns are now preparing to follow our example. The Sunday L.A. Times contained half a column account of it which will account for the bombardment of inquiries fired at the Sierra Madre garage, where the show was held.

It was a merry group which gathered at the W. J. Schiltz home, 67 East Montecito Avenue, on Saturday, to assist in celebrating the birthday anniversary of Marie Schiltz.

Harold Williams of Sierra Madre was winner of the grand prize in the Mt. Wilson trail race from Sierra Madre to Orchard Camp last Saturday. He covered the three and a half miles in 36 minutes. He competed in the class for men of 21 to 34 years.

Woodson F. Jones has been designated local agent for the Union Pacific Railroad, succeeding W. R. Humphries, who relinquished the agency when he closed his downtown office.

Erection of a new business block to fill in the space between the News office and the present Sadler store will be undertaken at once by C. S. Kersting, owner of the frontage.

Perfect Easter weather has prevailed all week for the Wistaria Festival after the event was ushered in on Saturday with snow, hail and rain. Opening day dawned auspiciously. But the sunshine did not last long. And just as the visiting city officials and press people were being treated to their luncheon under the vine, the lowering clouds released a miniature March blizzard.

$2,639 Is City's Share of Cig. Tax

State Controller Kenneth Cory has announced the distribution of $7,862,706 to counties and cities as the February apportionment of cigarette tax.

Los Angeles County received $167,872, and Sierra Madre got $2,639. The 58 counties' share was $1,493,417 and the cities' share totaled $6,369,289.

This distribution represents 30 per cent of the revenue deposited in the Cigarette Tax Fund during the month of January, 1979, less the state's administrative costs of $30,522.

A Woman Ought To Know

Send questions to: Anita Miller, chairperson, California Commission on the Status of Women, 926 J Street

Question:

I understand that new laws have been passed which make mortgage loans available to women. I would like to determine whether I am qualified to purchase a house or condominium. What are general qualifications now required of women?

— D. S., Oakland

Answer:

In the past it was almost impossible for women to obtain home loans. Single women were regarded by lenders as unreliable, and the wages of married women were often disqualified on the grounds that pregnancy might occur at any time.

Married women now are protected by an amendment to the Federal Housing and Community Development Act, effective in 1974, which requires anyone making "federally related mortgage loans" — most banks, in fact — "to consider without prejudice the combined income of both husband and and wife in the extension of mortgage credit." So incomes of both husband and wife must be counted. Furthermore, the Equal Credit Opportunity Act states that a home loan cannot be denied a single woman simply because she is unmarried.

On a national scale a new trend has surfaced. For the first time, more single women are buying homes than single men. Today, 20 per cent of all home loan seekers are unmarried, widowed or divorced women while single men comprise 15 per cent of the buyers.

The lender will take into account your income, savings, assets and ability to make a down payment. The average borrower pays 20 per cent of each month's income for the mortgage payment. A rule of thumb used by lenders is that your gross monthly income should be at least three to four times greater than one month's housing expenses, including payment on principal, interest, real estate taxes and insurance.

In the case of a married couple, husband and wife are usually required to sign the bond for the mortgage because most homes are held in joint ownership, even though the credit may belong to only one partner. No extra signature should be required when a single person applies for a mortgage, provided title is to be taken in that person's name alone.

A number of banks, including the Bank of California and Citibank of New York have published pamplets on credit for women. You can probably get further information on your financial status as a woman from your own local bank, since banks like other commercial institutions, are doing more business with women than ever before.

"Nature Notes"

By Sandor Junkunc

During the past year that I have been writing articles for this column, I have witnessed many changes in the foothill and canyon scene. Nothing in nature, I have found, is static . . . it may only seem that way, superficially. There is always change. Some of that change may be especially dramatic and quick in coming. But it may also take on a more subtle form, and will require deep probing for any differences to become visible. In fact, if any change is to be recognized, the natural world must be studied over an extended length of time . . . so that there can be a basis for comparison.

Let's use Eaton Canyon as a model, for since I have first begun studying it in 1963, I have become increasingly aware of the many, many changes in the overall makeup of the canyon area. A large number of the changes that occur there are seasonal, but there are some that take place over a span of years. These, too, must be reckoned with.

We could start with an area of Eaton Canyon I call the meadow. It is a large open field bordered by an oak-studded path on the west side, and by oak woods on the south and northeast. The northwest boundary is composed of a short line of euclayptus trees, the mouth of a narrow side-canyon, a small cactus habitat, and another patch of sprawling oak woods.

Two types of changes have come about in the meadow. The first is seasonal change, which is most dramatic, for it happens often enough to be noticed easily. The rich green grasses of winter and spring give way to the summer yellows of wild mustard, which in turn give in to the dead browns of autumn. All this is quite apparent if you hike the meadow at least during these four times of the year. The years, on the other hand, have brought about another change — more subtle, yet deep, for the meadow is slowing losing its "meadow identity." Along its perimeter, large shrubs are growing in abundance, slowly working their way toward the middle, cutting off open spaces that were once strongly dominated by the name meadow. If another natural force does not step in to stop this shubby growth, the meadow will eventually be no more. But this is just one change in an entire string of changes that weaves its way through the natural fabric of the canyon.

(More next week about change)

Persons aged 40 and over constitute about 36 per cent of California's civilian population of slightly more than 22 million. Statewide, as nationally, about 40 per cent of the labor force is comprised of men and women aged 40 and over.

Worker over 40 represent a valauble resource that we — as a state generlly and our employers specifically — cannot afford to waste. California needs the work skills and knowledge that older workers can contribute to our society.

Donations To Medical

those that have sent in their donations in the past couple of weeks, and guarantee that they have been put to good use. The EMT's donate their time and effort for this 24-hour service and appreciate any amount that you are able to contribute, and remind you to send them attention of the Medical Fund, P.O. Box 224, Sierra Madre Volunteer Fire Department, Sierra Madre, Ca 91024.

For those that are down town and wish to present them personally to the Medical Unit Captain, one may drop into the Sierra Madre News office and ask for this personal touch and it will be granted.

Citizens are reminded that the Medical Technicians have on hand such articles as crutches, wheelchairs, patient hoists, etc. that will be loaned to you free of charge, thereby eliminating the necessity of you having to purchase those item. All of the item have been donated to the Unit by those that have no further use for them. If you are in need, just call 355-1414 and notify the dispatcher to give a note to the Medical Technicians; you will be called upon within hours of your request.

Huck Finn

a bicycle clinic to instruct those present about he necessiy of now having a $3 bicycle license, which will be good for a three-year period. They will stress the advantage of the license and point out how it will increase the chances of recovering one's bicycle should be be stolen. At the present time only about two per cent of the 1500 Sierra Madre bicycles have been so registered.
